NOVEMBER 2003

Those Were the Days—the 1950's in Waiatarua

The old faithful bone-jarring bus from Auckland City to Piha, would rattle and roll it's way up West Coast Road with more noise than grunt, encouraged by banter from the local regular passengers. Delivery of newspapers aimed from the drivers window at letterboxes by Jack or Phil, sometimes, miraculously, managed to land on target.

Next stop, Waiatarua Store, owned and managed by Mick Chester; icecreams, milkshakes, all grocery items and a great meeting place for the locals to share Mick's genial company and latest news.

My sister and I would often walk from Waiatarua to Mountain Road to visit our parents, at times stopping on route at a home opposite Atkinson's Look Out, where tea, mouthwatering scones and rum balls were served – Delicious!

Our parents had an elderly Austin car aptly named the 'Yellow Terror' which, to put it mildly, was in a delicate state of health. It was held together with a great deal of faith plus a few Irish oaths, so rather than stress it completely, or have it disintegrate around one of the bends, we chose to walk. On occasions, as if by magic, Jim Foley would appear in his car and offer a lift, which was much appreciated. Belated thanks to you, Jim.

Before water tanks were installed on the property, we would take canvas buckets, cross Mountain Road and head down to what was then a crystal clear stream – with a few eels – in Spragg's Reserve. There were four homes in Turanga Road then and just a few in Mountain Road. No electricity, so we used kerosene lamps, kerosene iron and heaters, cooked on a wood/coal range, boiling the washing in a copper, and had a telephone party line which created both enjoyment and frustration. There were no white lines on the road, nor street lights, so driving at night in thick fog was indeed a test for one's vision.

There was a great Post Delivery man named Mike Marriott, who knew the area and residents well. Now his son covers some of those same miles.

Over the years stray animals would appear for food and shelter – an unwelcome one being a billy goat happily munching his way through precious plants. Father decided to chase the wretch down the driveway, only to return as though competing for the Olympics, with the goat having reversed the role of chaser

At times we would see wild sows with young in the bush or crossing the Scenic Drive and occasionally pig hunts took place.

Neighbours were sincere and helpful, especially if anyone needed a helping hand. Today that still seems to be the situation and long may it last. Friendships made over the years have stood the test of time, through differences of opinions and the enjoyment of happy days.

Wishing you delight in watching the ethereal magic of each dawn, hearing the first bird calls of the day and seeing the delicate beauty of dew drops on spiders webs. Waiatarua is a very special area and we have been so privileged to enjoy it.

Memories are the windows that hold the past in view. Through them we can see again each joy we ever knew.

Native Herbs in Waiatarua

Red Matipou (Mapau)

A very common small tree with characteristic red bark on the young branches. This identifies it from the Black Matipou, which is actually toxic.

The red matipou is the most effective native blood cleanser, improving all the organs of elimination to remove toxins from the body. It also stimulates the immune and digestive systems, helping to prevent or clear infections, and relieves constipation. Chewing on a leaf also has an analgesic effect, reducing the pain of toothache.

To use, boil a cup of fresh leaves in 3-4 cups of water for 1/2 hour and take 1/3 cup twice a day.

Sonja Cartwright, Waiataruan and Naturopath at Healthwise Naturopath Clinic.

Brickbats and Bouquets

'Scene' or Heard in Waiatarua

Upper Forest Hill road was closed on Sunday  $19^{\mbox{\tiny th}}$  October due to a slip.

Waiataruan's ventured out from their hobbit holes recently to witness a low flying helicopter delivering a water tank to a property up in the hills. Not a common occurrence, and one which prompted a 'meet the neighbours' event, albeit spontaneously.

Still more graffiti is appearing on road side structures...please report this to 'Waitakere Tag Out Trust' on 839 0400. Let's maintain a 'zero tolerance' to this visual pollution of our area. If tagging occurs on any Telecom structures, phone Faults on 120. If you have tagging occur on your private property, remove it as soon as possible, to deter future tagging.

News from the Waitakere Community Board Meeting on the new Civic Hub

Of greatest interest at the Community Board Meeting on the 30th September for readers was the presentation to the Board of two major projects - The Henderson Hub Project and the Waitakere Ranges Protection Project.

Of far reaching impact was the Henderson Hub. To date the public has not heard a great deal but, as they say, the Show is now on the road. At the meeting a large scale model of the project was presented together with slides and an address by Mayor Bob Harvey. He invited ratepayers and other organisations to have their own presentations if desired and no doubt we will look at this as a possibility in the near future.

The purpose of the Hub project is to make Henderson the real centre of Waitakere City. Up until now there have been centres like Henderson and New Lynn but without a particular area being a main centre. This is to change. In Henderson Valley Road the Council is to build a new Civic Centre—shifting from its present site off Lincoln Road. The Council has apparently acquired 3 hectares, being the old Carter Holt site. Council only requires 1 hectare and the remainder will be freed up for substantial development. The Civic Centre will straddle, by way of a bridge, the railway line and give access to a new bus and rail transport centre. United are also building a campus to house 2000 students and jointly with Council are building a new library to replace the present premises. Upgrades will also be made to the Corban's Art Centre. It is all part of an overall plan which will establish Henderson as the city centre and give transport links through to Britomart. Obviously it is hoped to not only serve the local population but also to bring in people from outside for a wide variety of activities in the area.

The presentation was very well received at the Community Board and the feeling was that it would prove to be a tremendous asset to the City as a whole.

The other project presented which one might feel was almost of equal importance, was the protection of the Waitakere Ranges, as again it is an asset for the benefit of the whole of the City and of the greater Auckland Region. Protection has been debated for many years and this is undoubtedly sure to continue. Protection has not been given so far to the Ranges on a governmental basis, but our Council is trying to put in place its own initiatives in conjunction with ARC, Iwi and MPs to examine the state of the Ranges and examine the way in which the Ranges are managed and what else should be done on a long term basis. This project will include foothills and coastal villages. The Council is holding a series of Community Workshops, and you may have already noticed there was one at the Waiatarua Community Hall on Thursday, 30th October. But there are other places and meeting times which you would be welcome to attend. We should all be taking a strong interest in what happens, as there are major issues, not the least being subdivisions, elimination of weeds and pests, preservation of water quality in the stream, promotion of bird life, tourism and what controls should be made of commercial ventures in the area. This would cover adventure experiences such as kayaking, abseiling, canyoning and the like. We all need to have our say in what happens. Geoff Wood

Congratulations...

To Dean and Julie Scahill and family of Raroa Terrace, on the birth of 'Reece James' on 16th September, weighing in at 7lb1oz.

Dogs and Beaches

With the warmer weather approaching most of us will take the opportunity to visit our local beaches. Please be aware that there are certain Council bylaws about taking the pooch with you to the beach.

Piha – No dogs are allowed on South Piha beach between 1st November and 31st March. Dogs may be exercised off their leash on North Piha Beach between the green marker poles (100 meters North of Lion Rock). Dogs must be on a leash at all other times and are not permitted in Prohibited areas, e.g. the base of Lion Rock.

Karekare – Dogs must be on a leash and are not allowed beyond the rocks at the South end of the beach.

The Arataki Rangers Roundup

Summer is but a stone's throw away and our work emphasis will be shifting towards the nursery. We will be collecting most of our seed for next years plants in the coming months. We have a summer student starting with us shortly to assist with the increased need in the nursery.

Tracks are also an area of our work to be focused on in November. The Rangers will be working alongside a track gang to do some track cutting and maintenance in the Arataki area. This will help the tracks remain walkable in spite of huge vegetation growth in the summer months.

We are also involved in the running of the Friends Arataki of Arataki Kids day. This is to be held on Sunday 2nd November 11am-3pm at the Arataki Nursery. It's a free event and there are all sorts of great activities for kids there so bring them along!

Don't forget if you have any enquiries or just want to meet your local rangers give the Arataki Rangers Station a call on Ph: 817-0099. Ka Kite.

This Month at WRRA

Isn't it nice to have Spring actually springing? We've had tipsy tuis in the Kahikatea, pigeons swooping all over the place, and even a swallow resting awhile on the deck. We've also had our hot water cylinder turned off for the last week so that the solar panels can earn their keep.

It has been a lean mean committee machine this month, with Dave Pocock off on safari in deepest Africa, and Eileen Powell soaking up the culture in Europe.

Structure Plans and Protecting the Ranges

One of the things that has occupied us has been the protection of the Ranges and how Structure Plans fit with this. The article last month got omitted through lack of space, so here is a (very) brief outline of the issues. A Structure Plan is a process that attempts to define the development potential of a particular area. A Structure Plan has been completed for Oratia, and the process is under way for Swanson and Birdwood. The matter that concerns your committee is that this has been happening before the overall planning objectives for the area and wishes of the local residents have been established. WCC is setting up a review of the Structure Plan process, and your committee has made submissions on the project brief and stated the concerns we have that on the one hand moves are underway to protect the Ranges, but on the other this apparent vehicle for development and subdivision is being used at the same time. We have been somewhat reassured by the responses we have received from WCC, mainly to the effect that we are not alone in expressing these concerns, and that it is now recognised that the overall objectives must be set before anything like a Structure Plan is undertaken. The final project brief also more strongly reflects this view than did the earlier drafts. Rest assured that we shall be keeping a very close eye on things. You can help by attending one of the "Protecting The Ranges" workshops and expressing your views. Thanks are due to Wade Cornell who has been very active and vigilant in monitoring this whole issue.

Traffic

I had a call from a Waiataruan the other day whose car ended up in a ditch with underbody damage because someone coming down Mountain Road had forgotten it is a two-way street (to put it charitably.) The victim wanted to know how get something done about improving warning signs on the road. The answer is to call the WCC on 839-0400 and report the incident and make the request. Get an incident number. Also let the committee know and quote that number. The more these things are reported, the more likely it is that something will be done. So don't just mutter and curse next time something like that happens to you—get on the phone!

On the plus side, there have been some new chevrons and raised pavement markers (cat's eyes to you and me) installed on some of our more notorious bends. So at least the hoons now have something to aim for when they go round the corners too fast.

Tony Bacon
